About the University

Sidho-Kanho-Birsha University began as an academic institution of higher learning when it was established as a state university in 2010. Since then it has been a chronicle of consistent effort and ascendant drive to keep alive the dynamics of academic flourish. The university is in the throes of novelty of vision and constitutive endeavours to script a new dimension in the annals of higher education. Sidho-Kanho-Birsha University (SKBU), Purulia aspires to be a premier center for advanced knowledge and top quality research. It strives to emulate global standards in the domain of higher education and intellectual know-how. Owing to technological access and communication facilities, it is always possible to keep in touch with the rest of the global academia. Therefore, SKBU as an institution of advanced learning and research is firmly planted in the advancement of local knowledge and aspiring to elevate its academic credentials in the global education map.

About the Workshop

Research Methodology is a way to systematically solve the research problem. A researcher must know the rationale for using specific methods or techniques and establish their relevance. Methodology may be understood as a science of studying how research is done scientifically.

The Department of Commerce and Department of Economics of Sidho-Kanho-Birsha university are jointly going to organize a two-week research methodology workshop on 'Econometric Applications in Social Science Research' that will usher the young researchers as well as the teachers of different colleges and universities in India to generate quality research outputs by extracting knowledge of different techniques covered under the scheme of this short term but valuable academic mission. The main aim of this workshop is to introduce applied econometrics and statistics such as regression analysis, Causality test, co-integration, VAR, VECM, and other methods relevant for economic research and allied fields, etc. The participants will be made familiar with the theory and software using well known examples from applied issues in finance, economics and other allied fields. The course is based on theoretical lectures and practical exercises in SPSS/ Eviews.
